Common Minimum Programme

Pundits often take fascination to prescribe ground rules to the Government of the day to be adhered in order to provide good governance so that even the land's last citizen feels happy, his or her minimum aspiration is to keep the belly reasonably full while living in comfort with a roof over head. The prescription for good governance, presented in simple-to-understand words, requires the top brass at the helm, both at the Centre and in the States as well as Union Territories, to spell out the three P principle namely, the Policy in broad terms, Programme as a set of measures and Plan of action as projects with their nuances, including cost and time-frame. These ground rules seem to have been followed religiously by the successive administrations from the start over the last seven-plus decades of democratic rule in the land, barring some aberrations marked by the administration going awry, mostly due to authority and power sliding into the hands of elected representatives of people with poor credentials.

The making up of the ingredients of Democracy, which late T.N. Seshan opined as the worst, has been hit by flaws, thanks to the focus by the politicos on getting rich by carving their share from public funds. A cartoonist has humorously and euphemistically portrayed the track record of the vote-mongers as Common Minimum Programme.

A city of the dimension of Mysuru hosting nearly three lakh families / households serves as a fairly-true-to-reality example of the Common Minimum Programme of their members, namely to be blessed with a livelihood in a floating State. The proportion of the households in any urban space that are placed in a zone of life's comfort in the total headcount is anybody's guess. Thanks to the dubious role models that the land's vote-seekers are openly exposing themselves, virtues by which past generations exemplified in their lives, such as work ethics, honesty, compassion, tolerance, patience, disciplined living, speaking without hurting others' feelings and so on are followed more in their breach.

To make a long story short, the politicos barring rare exceptions across the country, have sullied the meaning of the word coalition, by no-holds-barred compromise of the foretold virtues to occupy the gaddi called Government. The cartoonist has succinctly observed their Common Minimum Programme in these words: Just Plunder, what else?

Hotel charges $1 per night if you don't care about privacy

Tokyo: Getting a hotel room for $1 a night can be considered a bargain pretty much anywhere in the world, and especially so in a country like Japan. But getting the huge discount comes with a catch, and it's a big one.

Tourists visiting the Japanese city of Fukuoka on a budget can get a stellar deal at Business Ryokan Asahi, a welcoming inn located about a 15-minute walk from the city's shopping and entertainment area. For just 130 yen (about $1.20) anyone can book a room there for a night, as long as they don't mind giving up their privacy. That's because in order to take advantage of this amazing offer, you have to agree to let the hotel live-stream your whole stay on its YouTube channel.

The bizarre deal at Business Ryokan Asahi is available every day, including weekends and holidays, and anyone can take advantage of it. That includes influencers and vloggers who would probably pay big money to share the experience with their fans, but also everyday people looking to get cheap accommodation in exchange for their privacy.

Company makes Vodka out of thin air

Brooklyn: Brooklyn-based startup Air Co. claims to have created the world's first "carbon negative vodka" by capturing carbon dioxide from the air and using a solar powered machine to turn it into ethanol.

According to Air Co. co-founder Gregory Constantine, each bottle of carbon negative vodka sucks a pound of carbon dioxide from the air in its entire life cycle, or as much as eight full-grown trees. Unlike traditional vodka, which is made by fermenting starch-rich grains like wheat, or potatoes, in a process that can create around 13 pounds of greenhouse gases, Air Co. vodka is made only with water and carbon dioxide, and its production process actually removes carbon dioxide from the air.

Really...?

- Our oceans cover more than 70 per cent of the Earth's surface.
- With so much of the Earth's surface taken up by ocean, it's evident how vital these marine environments are to the planet, and how much there still is to be explored.

LAUGHTER THE BEST MEDICINE

A man vacations on a tropical island, and the first thing he hears is drums. He goes to the beach and hears the drums; he eats lunch, he hears the drums; he tries to sleep, he can't— drums. Finally, he storms over to the manager. "I've had it! Can't you stop those drums?" he begs. "No!" says the manager. "It's very bad if the drums stop." "Why?" "When the drums stop, the bass solo begins."

Ring of Darkness

Outer Ring Road lights turned off again

Mysuru, Nov.16 (RK&BCT)- Just a month after Dasara, streetlights along the six-lane Outer Ring Road (ORR) has been switched off. The 42-km-long carriageway has plunged into darkness again, endangering the safety of people using the motorway and residents of layouts beyond the road. Lights were switched on for Dasara following the intervention of Mysuru District Minister V. Somanna who took the issue to Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa who holds the Urban Development Ministry portfolio. He had written to Yediyurappa who had noted in the letter that the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) and Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) must share the responsibility of maintaining the streetlights.

With Dasara over, the street has plunged into darkness again, with no clarity on who should operate and maintain the streetlights. As outstanding dues remained unpaid, the Chamundeshwari Electricity Supply Corporation (CESC) disconnected power supply to streetlights. The six-lane Ring Road was built by MUDA and it handed over to the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) for maintenance.

Who has to maintain?

Once the road was handed over to NHAI, MUDA said that the NHAI has to operate the streetlights. But the NHAI has maintained that they do not have budgetary provisions to maintain the streetlights. As such, the maintenance of the streetlights fell on MCC and MUDA who agreed to maintain the lights as a joint responsibility. Though Minister Somanna had clearly instructed MCC and MUDA that the streetlights must not be switched off after Dasara, the entire stretch has now plunged into darkness.

Chamundi Hill in danger of developmental devastation

People unite to protect the Hill

Mysuru, Nov.16 (YDS&VNS)- Experts, engineers, environmentalists and special invitees, who attended a meeting organised to discuss conservation of Chamundi Hill, here yesterday, unanimously decided to meet District Minister V. Somanna and Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar with a request to stop construction works atop the hill. The meeting was held at the Institution of Engineers-India (IEI) premises on JLB Road in city.

Members present at the meeting were of the opinion that Chamundi Hill was turning into a concrete jungle with authorities taking up construction works in the name of development. The meeting also came out with the three important decisions, namely:

1. To urge the District Minister and Deputy Commissioner not to implement Central Government sponsored Pilgrimage Rejuvenation and Spiritual Augmentation Drive (PRASAD) scheme and to stop construction works atop the hill.

2. To declare Chamundi Hill as the Reserve Forest Area by submitting a proposal through Forest Department.

3. To discuss with legal experts about drafting of a Bill to bring in a law to protect the Chamundi Hill area from vandalism and construction of buildings, roads and other so-called developmental works.

Man arrested for murdering lover in Nanjangud

Nanjangud, Nov. 16 (Chinnaswamy, Ravi&KS)- A 28-year-old widow, who was in love with a man and staying with him since 10 days has been allegedly murdered by the man after she demanded him to marry her.

The deceased woman is Lakshmi, a resident of Hullahalli village in the taluk and the accused is Nagesh of the same village, an auto driver by profession.

Lakshmi had married Manjesh of Terekanambi village in Gundlupet taluk about 10 years back and Manjesh had passed away two years after marriage. The couple has a son.

After the death of Manjesh, Lakshmi began to stay with her mother along with her son. About six years ago, Lakshmi developed relationship with one

Harshan and were living together in a live-in relationship. But three years ago, Harshan committed suicide by hanging self.

Later, Lakshmi took up a job at a garment factory in Mysuru and used to go to work from her mother's house. About two years ago, Lakshmi came in contact with Nagesh and their friendship turned to love. Nagesh too was frequenting Lakshmi's house.

Lakshmi, recently had told Nagesh not to come to her house following which about 10 days ago, Nagesh, who told that he would marry Lakshmi, took her with him. He took up a rented house and began to stay together, according to the complaint lodged by Lakshmi's mother Nanjammanni with the Police.

Nanjammanni has further stated that Lakshmi had demanded Nagesh to marry him and had asked her to come to the house on Nov. 15 for talks. But when Nanjammanni reached the house, Nagesh had already killed Lakshmi by strangulating her.

Meanwhile, Hullahalli Sub-Inspector Surendra and staff began to look out for Nagesh and finally arrested him at Hullahalli Bus Stand.

Dy.SP Prabhakar Rao Shinde, Circle Inspector Rajashekar and others visited the spot.

Youth who had married against parents' wish murdered

Body found in Hemavathi River near Holenarsipur

Mandya, Nov.16 (Nagaiah &KS)- A 29-year-old youth, who fell in love and married the girl against her parents' wish has been allegedly murdered and his body was found floating in Hemavathi River near Holenarasipur.

The deceased is Manju, a resident of Siddaianakoppal village in the taluk. His body was traced in Hemavathi River in Holenarasipur Police limits. His neck was slit with a sharp weapon and the body was thrown into the river after tying a big stone.

Details: Manju was in love with Archana of the same village since seven years. As Archana's parents had objected to their relationship, Manju and Archana got married on Sept. 10 at Anjaneyaswamy Temple at Shikaripura in Shivamogga district.

Manju

But Archana's parents, who did not accept their marriage, conducted engagement of Archana with a boy from Maddur and the marriage date was fixed on Oct. 22 and 23. But Manju and Archana left their village, came to Mandya and began to live together after taking a house on rent at Chamundeshwari Nagar.

Archana's parents who came to know about this, came to Mandya and took a written statement from Archana stating that she (Archana) would not seek any property from them besides telling Archana that she was no longer their family member.

But on Nov. 9 evening, Manju, who went out of the house to fetch milk, did not return home and Archana had lodged a missing complaint at Mandya East Police Station. When Mandya East Police were still conducting their investigation, they received a call from Holenarasipur Police, who told them that they have found a body of a youth in Hemavathi River and gave the body's description. As the description matched with Manju, Mandya Police took Archana with them to Holenarasipur and showed her the body, which Archana confirmed the body to be of Manju.

While Mandya Police had registered a missing case, Holenarasipur Police registered a case of murder and are investigating. Meanwhile, Mandya East Sub-Inspector Venkatesh told Star of Mysore that if Holenarasipur Police transfers the case to us, we would convert the missing case into a murder case.

Manju's parents have expressed their doubts on the parents of Archana as they had married against their wish and also on the person with whom Archana's parents had got her engaged.

However, Archana's parents, who refused their involvement in the murder, said that after Archana got married to Manju, they left her to fend for herself besides stating that the person with whom they got Archana engaged to would not stoop to the level of murdering Manju.

One B.S. Vishwanath, a resident of Basavanagudi in Bengaluru had submitted four applications seeking information under RTI Act to the then Srirangapatna Tahsildar Dayanand on various dates in 2016.

But Tahsildar Dayanand, who was also the Public Relations Officer, not only delayed in providing information but also provided incomplete information for the four applications.

In this backdrop, Information Commission Commissioner S.L. Patil issued an order imposing a total fine of Rs. 28,000 on Tahsildar Dayanand to be deducted in his (Tahsildar) salary.

Illegal transportation of cattle

Three arrested; 12 cows, seven calves rescued

Mysuru, Nov.16 (SPN&KS)- City Crime Branch (CCB) Police have arrested three persons, who were found transporting cattle in a lorry illegally and have rescued 12 cows and seven calves from the lorry.

A case has been registered at Alanahalli Police Station.

Link roads to Vijayanagar in pathetic condition

Sir,

All key connecting roads in and around Vijayanagar have completely deteriorated. Kalidasa Road (from Panchavati to Yoganarasimhaswamy Temple), Kannada Sahitya Parishat Road (from Chandrakala Hospital to VVCE), High Tension Road (from Trinetra Circle to K.D. Circle), Surya Bakery Road (from Water Tank to Surya Bakery), and other connecting roads have either been dug up or potholed for long time now.

All these roads are used by thousands of commuters as these are the only approach roads for many residents and office-goers. These roads are also the main connecting links to the industrial hub of city and such bad roads will hurt the image of the city which is touted as next industrial destination.

Motorists and pedestrians are equally distressed on these roads (or what's left of it). To add to the woes, water pipe laying works near water tank is progressing at the usual snail's pace creating Delhi-like dusty environment. The situation is getting from bad to worse and if at all the elected representatives visit these roads (even in their plush vehicles) they would understand the plight of the common road user.

If roads are dug up for laying cables, water lines or any other purpose it also needs to be properly repaired on priority basis. Will this perpetual problem be ever solved? Request authorities, elected representatives to provide basic commutable roads and usable footpaths to pedestrians.

What is Hatha Yoga?

"Hatha Yoga is the phenomenon of aligning the human system with the cosmic – a way to hold one's system in a way that it will become a receptacle to receive and hold the entire cosmos," says Isha Foundation Founder Sadhguru Jaggi Vasudev.

Hatha Yoga stems from a deep understanding of the mechanics of the body, and uses yogic postures, or yogasanas, to enable the system to sustain higher dimensions of energy. By practicing this profound science, one can change and enhance the way they think, feel, and experience life. Hatha Yoga is about creating a body that is not a hurdle in your life. The body becomes a stepping stone in the progress towards blossoming into your ultimate possibility.

Uncertainty looms large over K-SET

No notification issued so far, thanks to political upheaval; Test most probably in 2020

Mysuru, Nov.16 (SBD&SD)- It seems highly unlikely that Karnataka State Eligibility Test (K-SET) will be conducted this year as the accreditation period given to University of Mysore (UoM) by University Grants Commission (UGC) has lapsed in 2018 and has not yet been renewed. K-SET determines eligibility for appointment to posts of Assistant Professors and Lecturers in Universities and Degree Colleges in the State.

K-SET Centre of UoM is a Nodal Agency recognised by the UGC for conducting the test. The K-SET Centre was re-accredited in 2016 to conduct the test for the next three years. Accordingly, UoM had conducted the most-sought after eligibility test in 2016, 2017 and 2018 but preliminary procedures related to accreditation process were delayed and as a result, it looks unlikely that K-SET will be conducted this year.

UoM officials had applied for renewal well before the end of accreditation period in June this year but following political developments in the State, the application was transferred to the UGC one-and-a-half months later. It is expected that members of the UGC Committee will be visiting UoM later this month and K-SET Centre will be re-accredited to conduct the test for the next three years from 2020.

Even candidates having Ph.D. have to qualify K-SET if they want to apply for the post of a lecturer. Every year, the K-SET notification is generally issued in October and candidates used to submit applications in November. After the receipt of applications, the K-SET test is usually conducted in December.

This year, no such notification has been issued till date and hundreds of candidates are calling UoM K-SET Centre, enquiring about the test. According to sources, the Centre receives hundreds of calls every day from anxious students who want to pursue a career in teaching.

The University of Mysore has the distinction of being a Nodal Agency to conduct K-SET for lectureship since 2011. That year, it was conducted on experimental basis and after tasting success, the University was chosen as the Nodal Agency. Out of 95,000 candidates applied for K-SET last year, 75,000 candidates had written the eligibility test and 4,800 candidates cleared it.

"All necessary documents have already been submitted to UGC. A Committee has been set up and we are expecting that they will be visiting the Centre this month. As soon as we get the accreditation, question papers will be set for the test. Probably, K-SET will be conducted in the month of January or February 2020," said Prof. H.M. Rajashekhar, K-SET Co-ordinator, University of Mysore.

Policemen on Chamundi Hill trek

A trek along the Chamundi Hill steps was organised by the District Police yesterday morning where over 200 Policemen within the city limits and District Armed Reserve personnel participated. The walk was organised to promote healthy living. Superintendent of Police C.B. Ryshyanth and ASP Kshama Mishra spearheaded the walk that was also to improve bonding among Policemen and better their communication skills. Breakfast was arranged at Forest Guest House atop the Hill.

The meeting also discussed pros and cons of proposed Ropeway to Chamundi Hill, converting the existing road to 4-lane road, construction of Dasoha Bhavan, Multi-level Parking and other construction work atop the hill and developing Chamundeshwari Temple similar to Kollur and Sringeri under PRASAD scheme.

During the meeting, Institution of Engineers, Technical Committee Advisor M. Lakshmana apprised the members present about alleged encroachment of land surrounding Chamundi Hill by a few spiritual institutions and influential realtors.

Experts, environmentalists and special invitees at a meeting held at Institution of Engineers-India (IEI) on JLB Road in city yesterday to discuss on conservation of Chamundi Hill.

Ashvini Ranjan of Mysore Grahakara Parishat (MGP), stating that there was an increase of commercial establishments atop the hill, demanded that authorities must evict establishments selling toys and other commercial articles while allowing those selling puja items.

District Heritage Committee Member Prof. N.S. Rangaraj citied that there was no need to increase the number of visitors to Chamundi Hill as about one crore visitors, including 80 to 87 lakh tourists, had visited the temple over the past two years. "Authorities must take measures to preserve the bio-diversity atop the hill rather than chalking out plans to increase the number of visitors," he said and added there was no need for a ropeway atop Chamundi Hill.

MGP Founder-President Bhami V. Shenoy said under the PRASAD scheme, the temples had to be developed in the present state and added the same was not followed in case of Chamundi Hill.

Environmentalist U.S. Ravikumar, enlightening members about flora and fauna, said that there were about 554 species of plants, butterflies, birds and mammals atop the hill and added the Chamundi Hill was also rich in water resource as the ground water level of Mysuru city increases by 30 percent during the rainy season.

However, he expressed his concerns over the depletion of the ground water level in the days to come owing to increase of construction works on the hill.

Ravikumar also mentioned about the inability of Chamundi Hill Gram Panchayat in clearing about 1.5 tonne waste which is generated on daily basis atop the hill.

Maj. Gen. (retd.) S.G. Vombatkere said Mysuru was the cultural capital and known as the Heritage City at the global level. Stating that Chamundi Hill was a gem on top of Mysuru's crown, he called upon people to unite to save the hill.

Former Mayor B.L. Bhyrappa expressed concern over the blasting of a rock near the 300th step atop the hill to install pipeline to provide drinking water to residents atop the hill.

Stating that blasting would add to the existing problems, Bhyrappa said tourists flock to Mysuru to visit Palace, Chamundi Hill and Zoo but unfortunately authorities are spoiling the beauty of such places.

He also said that MUDA was developing a land opposite the burial ground as a layout which had to be prevented.

Speaking on the occasion, Star of Mysore Editor-in-Chief K.B. Ganapathy said it was not right to blame the officers who simply obey the Ministers and MLAs and added that there was a need to bring an Act that may be called, for example, as Chamundi Hill Conservation Act. Calling upon various NGOs to come out with a draft proposal of the Bill to conserve the hill as a private member's Bill to be brought to the Assembly.

Centre suggests alternative routes bypassing Bandipur

New Delhi, Nov.16- The Union Ministry of Road Transport and National Highways has agreed to consider alternative routes to connect between Gundlupet and Sulthan Batheri in Kerala instead of NH-212 (now NH 766) which passes through Bandipur Tiger Reserve.

The Ministry has filed an affidavit in the Supreme Court yesterday saying that State Highway-90 (Hunsur-Talacauvery) and State Highway-89 (Madikeri-Kutta) in Karnataka and Thalassery-Bavali (district road) and Kattikkulam-Tholpetty (district road) in Kerala can be developed as alternatives.

A joint Committee of experts comprising officials of Ministry of Environment and Forests and National Tiger Conservation Authority suggested these routes.

The Ministry has put the onus on the State Governments of Karnataka and Kerala to develop the State Highways and district roads so that the National Highway running inside the Tiger Reserve is left undisturbed.

The Apex Court had in an earlier hearing given the Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate four weeks to file an affidavit. The Ministry of Road Transport and Highways was also given an opportunity for the same.

The petition is filed by private transporters who are challenging the ban on night traffic inside Bandipur forest. The Ministry has said that the various Departments have identified State Highways 90 and 89 in Karnataka and State Highway 59 and MDR-002 (Major District Road) and MDR-001 in Kerala as alternative routes for NH-212.

Though interior roads in Karnataka (Hunsur-Talacauvery and Madikeri-Kutta) have already been developed as State Highways with two lanes, Kerala is yet to develop the districts roads Thalassery-Bavali and Kattikkulam-Tholpetty as State Highways with two lanes, the Centre said.

The Kerala Government has to upgrade its two district roads as State Highways at its own expenditure including getting necessary clearances from statutory institutions and meeting land acquisition costs. Once these stretches are developed as State Highways by the State Government, then entire alternative routes can be declared as National Highways, said the Ministry.

The Bench of Justices R.F. Nariman and S. Ravindra Bhat gave six weeks' time to all the parties including Kerala and Karnataka to respond to the proposal by the Centre.

Unholy Alliance

One has to ask, what use is a pre-poll alliance if the partners cannot deliver a Government even after the people have given them the mandate?

It is said Politics is the art of possibilities, but Shiv Sena and BJP have shown the art of irresponsibility. They have left Maharashtra, a State that makes up for nearly 17% of the country's industrial output, 12% of India's GDP and 32% of India's tax collection in Limbo. And Why? Because, reportedly a doting father wants his 29-year-old son, a first time MLA, to be the CM.

It is ironic that the patriarch of Shiv Sena, Bal Thackeray, in an interview, when asked about Rahul Gandhi had said, "He was born yesterday and wants to be Prime Minister today. Is the PM's post up for auction?" And here we are, 8 years since that interview, his grandson trying the same!

Like the saying goes, when two parties fight, a third will make merry and so it's time for 'Pawar-play' in Maharashtra. And Sharad Pawar knows how to play politics. More importantly, he knows the art of sneaking into the Chief Minister's chair. He has done it four times and never with single party majority!

Back in 1978, Congress was split into Congress (U) led by Pawar's Mentor Yashwantrao Chavan and Congress (I) led by Indira Gandhi. They fought the election separately but when Janata Party was just short of majority, the 'U' and 'I' became 'Bhai-Bhai' and formed the Government. But just months later, Pawar took his loyalists and walked out of the coalition and formed a new coalition with Janata Party. He did this because he was made the CM. He was just 38 then!

Pawar again went back to Congress and Rajiv Gandhi made him the CM of Maharashtra by removing the sitting CM in the hope that Pawar would stop the rise of Shiv Sena.

He didn't. In the following election Congress didn't get majority but managed to get support of 12 independents and again Pawar became the CM a third time.

Then in 1993, Mumbai riots broke out when Sharad Pawar was the Defence Minister. He was sent to his home State to help Sudhakarrao Naik, CM of Maharashtra, to handle the Mumbai riots. According to Naik, Pawar did not help as he wanted Naik to fail. If this is true, it worked. Naik was asked to resign and P. V. Narasimha Rao asked Pawar to serve again as Chief Minister of the State for the 4th time!

Pawar is a shrewd politician, and like most politicians, he will say what he wants. In 2014, he hinted that he would retire from politics and was praised for doing so. But the same year he returned to the Rajya Sabha. Pawar likes Power very much.

That is why Congress and Sonia Gandhi are wary of him, of course Gandhis are wary of anyone who is not a Gandhi but even Bal Thackeray of Shiv Sena did not have kind words for Pawar.

Bal Thackeray and Sharad Pawar were supposedly friends but Thackeray, when asked if he would join Sharad Pawar, said, "If politics is considered to be a game of scoundrels, it is for a man to decide whether he wants to be a gentleman or a scoundrel. If anyone wants to become a scoundrel, okay. But I will not go with a scoundrel, whoever he maybe."

As for Congress, Bal Thackeray had no affection for the Party or the Gandhis. In fact when Rahul Gandhi made the call, 'Mumbai for all Indians' Bal Thackeray wrote, "Mumbai may belong to all Indians but how can it belong to an Italian mummy." He had also said that he would rather hand over power to the British, who at least have had the experience of ruling the country for 150 years, rather than Sonia Gandhi. The Congress in turn mocked Bal Thackeray saying he is a "tiger that needs 150 security men around him to roar."

Bal Thackeray also said the country has no future under this "Eunuch Rule" of Congress referring to the Congress leaders' subservience to Sonia Gandhi. The present Chief of Shiv Sena, Uddhav Thackeray has repeated this statement. Meanwhile, Senior Congress leader Digvijay Singh called the Shiv Sena 'A Desi Taliban.'

So this is the history of these three parties. They also speak in multiple tongues. Sharad Pawar said people have given him the mandate to sit in the Opposition so he will do just that. Now he says he wants to form a Government. Just a year ago, he said he might give outside support to BJP. Later he said BJP and Sena are old partners and will eventually get back together!

The Congress, on the other hand, says BJP is communal, but now wants to form a Government with Shiv Sena who up until last month were obsessed with Ram Mandir. They now want to form a Government with a party they called 'Desi Taliban,' a party that has not only been communal but also violent towards non-Marathis.

It is said your enemy's enemy is your friend, but sometimes this could also bring your end. Now, If this trio fails, BJP may have a good chance in the re-election. Is that why BJP did not negotiate with Shiv Sena? Who knows, there is more arithmetic in politics than in mathematics.

For now, these three parties and their leaders, who have a bitter history, personal distrust and dislike, have come together to form an "ideologically-opposed threesome". But let us hope the joy of keeping BJP out is sweet enough to keep them together for 5 years. Or they may end up being a 'gruesome-threesome' for Maharashtra's future.

D Company

Pet lovers are themselves a special breed and their entire world revolves around their dogs and vice versa. Dogs are their companions, sharing strong bonds, physical and emotional connect. Both are secure with each other's company and any external threat will be resisted literally tooth and nail. This Weekend Star Supplement features a couple of pet parents who have devoted a part of their lives to pets. Their emotional bonding cannot be described, but only experienced.

STAR OF MYSORE Saturday 16th November 2019 Weekend STAR Supplement Page - 11

Bonding with Furry Friends

Eye contact between a mother and her baby strengthens their attachment by activating the so-called love hormone – oxytocin – in the mother's brain (secreted by posterior lobe of the pituitary gland that reduces anxiety, stress, and depression). This drives emotional bonding between parent and the offspring.

Studies have shown that stroking or making eye contact with a dog can trigger a similar release of oxytocin in a human's brain. Dogs successfully cohabit with humans because they have been successful in adapting the bonding mechanism.

Dog lovers are a special breed and not everyone can handle their love for all things canine. Dogs have been with human beings for tens of thousands of years. The beautiful friendship between Homo sapiens and Canis lupus familiaris has had some surprising effects on both the species.

Once the pet parent and the pet bond is established, there is nothing in the world to separate them. People no longer see dogs as their pets. They consider them their children and treat them as one too. From food to grooming, they want the best for their furry babies. For pet parents, participation in activities with their dogs is the best way to spend time. It can be as simple as a walk, a game, or a training session.

Apart from taking care of pets at home and kennels, these pet lovers like to show off their pets and for this purpose they take them to different competitions. Transporting pets from one place to another is itself a task as they need to be kept cool. They are carried in specially designed compartments in vehicles where iceboxes are kept. Fans are then blown on the ice boxes so that cool air permeates the air.

One such National-level Dog Show competition was held at Chamundi Vihar Stadium in Mysuru recently where over 250 dogs of over 35 breeds including Korean Dosa Mastiff, Lion Head Tibetan Terrier Mastiff, Miniature Pinscher, Saint Bernard, Great Dane, Doberman, German Shepherd, Golden Retriever, Pug, Lhasa Apso and Mudhol Hound participated.

Star of Mysore spoke to a couple of participants in the show and they spoke on a wide range of issues concerning their pets like good and bad behaviour, the relationship with the pet, motivation to have an animal, dealing with medical emergencies and what would they do if they have to leave the pets for any reason. Here is what they have to say.

Pets are good, enjoyable company

Kaushik Gupta has been a pet parent since the last one year. He is 20 and an MBBS student. "My tight schedule was a bit of a burden and at the end of the day there is no time to unwind and there are no means too. This is where I decided to have a pet for a good and enjoyable company," he says.

"I call my Snoofy as a great stress-buster and a pain killer. As an animal, even my dog has normal behaviour which changes as per her age factor and due to hormones. Many times she has bitten my clothes during her teeth development period. She showed bad signs during her puberty but as a pet owner I understand the reason behind her behaviour. I trained her in such a way that she does not repeat those mistakes," he says.

"Snoofy is a very friendly dog and she likes to play and get drenched in rain and adores playing around with a soft ball which has spikes and makes noise as it bounces on the ground," he adds.

Kaushik is very attached to Snoofy and even in his hectic schedules dominated by lecture sessions and practicals, he makes it a point to play with Snoofy in the evening. "I have a pet consultant for her. The bond between me and Snoofy is strong. I can't even leave her for a single day. And there is no question of leaving her and going out of station," he says.

Dog's love is unconditional

Chandrakanth has been a pet lover since the last eight years. A bachelor, he treats pets as his children. "I cherish every move of my pets and they make me smile every time. Their love is unconditional and they love you more than they love themselves." For Chandrakanth, life is unimaginable without pets. "They are the world and they are its beautiful part," he says.

World revolves around his dogs

For Shiva, who is a pet lover/ parent since the last 10 years, all things revolve around his dogs. He cares for them 24/7 and looks after their every need. "I have been with them since years and even after I get married I don't think that my relationship with dogs will change," he says. Shiva has a task of finding a life partner who shares the same love for pets.

Shiva owns many breeds including Flat Coated Black Retriever, Beagle, Great Dane, Shi Tzu, and German shepherd. "Whenever I am under stress or pressure, my pets immediately sense it and comfort me. They come and hug me and make me forget all my troubles," he says.

For Shiva, a good dog is always playful and a bad dog always barks and nags at times. "A bad-behaved dog can be converted into a good dog out of human love and attention," he says. Shiva has not faced any medical emergency so far and he has a personal veterinarian who visits his kennel once or twice a month.

Her training enables her to care

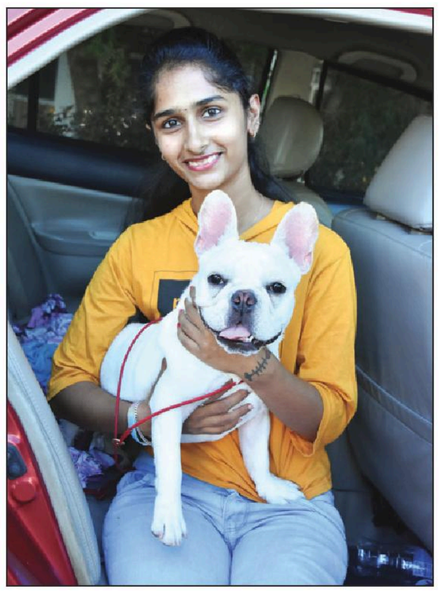
Naina Gowda, a resident of Siddarthanagar in Mysuru owns over 28 dogs including Siberian Husky, Beagle, Shi Tzu, Miniature Pinscher and Saint Bernard. "They are a family for me and I am dedicated to them 24/7." This love for pets has prompted to develop a kennel in a one-and-a-half acre land. Her Siberian Husky has won many prizes in dog competitions.

"Some of the breeds need special climatic condition and they cannot be exposed to hot, humid and even cold condition. I have customised sections at the kennel to house such pets and special attention is given to them," she explains. Travelling with the pets is always in air-conditioned vehicles. "I take the competing dogs in my AC car so that temperatures do not harm them.

Regarding medical emergencies, Naina says that she herself is a trained medical professional. "I have enough medical and nursing experience and I have worked in medical care industry. This experience allows me to take care of my pets in a professional manner," she reacts.

Best friends who always stay loyal

Pets have been Tanya's world for 16 years. They include dogs and cats. "Having children and having pets around you is similar as they need attention, love and caring. They are like best friends who always stay loyal and love us from all their heart," she says. If for any reason she has to leave her pets, Tanya will ensure that she hands them over to safe hands.



Separate cages to prevent dogfights

Ashok Maurya has been a pet owner since the last 10 years. "I always wanted to have a pet or two since a very early age. I had the love and affection towards pets and this motivated me. I have a White Retriever and I have got it for this competition," he says.

Describing the activities of his dogs, Ashok says that soft toys and honking toys are the favourite toys for the pets. On dealing with bad behaviour, Ashok says that he will keep them in separate cages to prevent fights from going out of hands. He has a personal veterinarian to attend to the health needs of his pets and any medical emergencies.

Fur bond can never change over blood bond

Madhuri Bhat works as a Cyber Security Engineer and has been a pet parent since 25 years. She is newly married and she thinks that her fur bond can never change over blood bond.

"Pets are often non-judgemental and interacting with pets has a range of positive effects which makes our life better every day. We must be our pets' best friend and spend some quality time every day. Dogs have adapted to live with humans and like to please us. But we still have to train them to avoid some of their more destructive behaviours," she says.

"Dogs give us endless, unconditional love and there are so many ways that dogs show their appreciation to us. They are huge part of a family and no one would have it any other way," she says.

On dog behaviour, Madhuri says that aggression and scavenging are the two most common problems. There are many pet habits that owners also consider harmful or annoying. "Yet, these two are the most dangerous for your pooch and people and animals around them. We should understand their threshold and keep them in right track," she explains.

On medical emergency, she says, "An emergency involving dog is every dog owner's fear. The best place to treat a pet medical emergency is at a veterinary clinic. Also we should take basic training to handle these situations. Using common sense during emergency situations is very important," she says.

Leaving pets for any reason is no option for her. "Once we start parenting a pet, for them we are the world. How can they live without us," she asks.

Both children and dogs throw tantrums

For Ganu Muddappa and Pruthvi, pets are inseparable from their lives and they have been attached to dogs since the last 13 years.

Children and pets are same in many respects as both need ardent love, attention, caring and of course, both throw tantrums many times. "We need to shape their growth with love and also at the same time be strict to make them understand that bad behaviour cannot be tolerated," they say and add that pets are loyal, loveable, adorable and very protective towards good owners.

While Ganu Muthappa owns a Belgian Malinois that is used mainly in the US Army, Pruthvi has four dogs — Labrador, Dogo Argentino and two Rottweilers. Pruthvi is into wildlife conservation and photography as well.

"Dogs are always stress-busters. We train our dogs very well and when they misbehave sometimes, just a tap on the nose does the job," says Pruthvi.

Last week, Pruthvi's Dogo Argentino won a couple of prizes at Silicon City Kennel Club Dog Show in Bengaluru.

Children can talk and study, dogs can't – that's the only difference

T. Yashas has had pets since he was 10 and he took up breeding dogs since engineering. "It has been nearly 11 years since I have been breeding Beagles, Huskies, Shi Tzu, Belgian Malinois and Yorkshire Terriers. If I have children, my relationship with pets won't change. It would rather be an additional member to the same family. The only difference will be that my own children will talk and study," he says.

On bad behaviour, he says that is because of owners. "No dog can have a bad behaviour unless the owner is bad. Aggression, excessive barking, anxiety, restlessness, untimely potty practices and not listening to your commands are all based on how a pet is raised. It takes lots of efforts from owners to correct them. Patience is the key here and I would treat and train my dog as a positive reinforcement technique which works most of the times," he quips.

"Medical emergencies are quite rare in pets if monitored carefully. In case of an emergency, it's always good to not panic. It is better to be constantly in touch with a regular veterinarian," he adds.

MP Sreenivasa Prasad clarifies on Education Department circular

Mysuru,Nov.16 (RK&DM)- Even as a circular issued by the Education Department on the celebration of National Constitution Day in schools, which several dalit organisations have termed it as an act of undermining Dr. B.R. Ambedkar, has stirred up a Statewide controversy, Chamarajanagar MP V. Sreenivasa Prasad has sought to clarify on the issue.

MP V. Sreenivasa Prasad seen addressing media in city this morning as former MUDA Chairman C. Basavegowda (left) and others look on Addressing a press meet at a private hotel here this morning, Sreenivasa Prasad maintained that the circular was a goof up on the part of some Education Department officials and neither the BJP Government nor the Primary Education Minister Suresh Kumar has to be blamed for the goof up.

Stating that he immediately called up Suresh Kumar when the controversy raged over the circular, Sreenivasa Prasad said that the Minister told him that the department had outsourced the publication of a handbook on the Constitution to a private agency. But some officials of the department had uploaded it on the department website even before editing it and bringing it to the notice of the Minister or the Principal Secretary of the Department. Once the flaws in the circular was noticed, the government withdrew the circular and suspended three Directors of the Education Department holding them responsible for the fiasco, he said, while stressing that the State Government nor the Minister were not in any way responsible for the circular, which allegedly misrepresented the role of the Father of the Constitution Dr. B.R. Ambedkar.

Dismissing the allegations that the BJP is sending a wrong message to the society by saying that Dr. Ambedkar did not compile the Constitution alone, Prasad urged Dalit organisations to refrain from staging protests over the issue as the government has withdrawn the circular.

Maintaining that the President and the Prime Minister of India have high regard for Dr. Ambedkar, the MP appealed DSS and other associations not to get provoked and stage stirs, as the issue is a closed chapter now.

When asked whether the Opposition will target the government on the issue, Prasad said that the BJP Government has the blessings of the people and MPs and MLAs of the party were elected by the people and not nominated.

Maintaining that the people's representatives of the party were functioning in a responsible manner, Prasad rejected the Opposition claims that the BJP had neglected Dalit communities and other marginalised sections of the society.

Referring to the fall of the coalition Government, Prasad said that it was the irresponsible attitude of former CM Siddharamaiah that led to the collapse of the JD(s)-Congress Coalition Government and the BJP had no role in it.

Lashing out at Siddharamaiah for his arrogance, he squarely blamed the non cooperation of the former CM in the functioning of the co-ordination committee, which did not have the then JD(S) State President A.H. Vishwanath as a member.

Expressing confidence that the BJP would win most of the 15 Assembly segments going to the by-polls on Dec.5, Prasad said that he will accompany Vishwanath when he files his nomination papers at Hunsur on Nov.18 and also campaign for him .

When his attention was drawn to Vishwanath's statement yesterday that it was Sreenivasa Prasad who brought him to the BJP, the MP was evasive and blamed the Congress and JD(s) for ill-treating their legislators, which forced some of them to quit their seats.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, N.M. Shashikumar, Additional Deputy Commissioner of MCC said that they cannot foot the electricity bill as there will be audit objections.

Temporary arrangement only

"When Minister Somanna intervened in the issue, we were told to make a temporary arrangement till Dasara is over. He had told us that there will be a formal Government Order on the areas that come under MCC and the ones that come under MUDA and accordingly, power bills can be footed. And there will be no audit objections if there is a Government Order. So far we have not received any order from the Government," he clarified.

Shashikumar further said that last Thursday, MUDA and MCC had a joint meeting including Commissioners, Joint Directors of Town Planning, Superintending Engineers and Executive Engineers. "The meeting discussed issues like the inside areas of the Ring Road that come under MCC and the outer areas that come under MUDA. The meeting deliberated on transfer of layouts, Khatas and other issues. As per the outcome of the meeting, MUDA has to maintain the Ring Road streetlights," he said.

MUDA is waiting for Government Order

MUDA Commissioner P.S. Kantharaju said that the Government Order on sharing the power bills is awaited for clear-cut instructions. "We had set aside funds to get the lights switched on. SKYWATCH

'Shooting Stars' to light up Night Sky this month

A meteor, sometimes called a "shooting star," can be the brightest object in the night sky. Wandering through space, perhaps as debris left behind by a comet, meteoroids enter the earth's atmosphere, are heated by friction and for a few seconds streak across the sky as a meteor with a glowing trail. A brilliant meteor, called a fireball, may weigh many kilograms, but even a meteor weighing less than a gram can produce a beautiful trail. Some of these visitors are large enough to survive their trip through the atmosphere and impact the ground as meteorites. Fireballs are sometimes followed by trails of light that persist for up to 30 minutes; some, called bolides, explode with a loud thunderous sound.

On November 16, 17 and 18, it is unambiguous for us to see the mesmerising 'Leonids' meteor showers. This year, meteor showers will be moderately good as it will be quite free from full moon, but the moon will be waning gibbous this time. Leonid is a meteor shower known for its variable activity. The years around parent Comet 55P TEMPEL-TUTTLE returns gave considerable activity enhancements, sometimes up to stormy levels. Late autumn around Nov. 17 before dawn, dedicated meteor watchers have long kept a vigil. In the cold, early morning darkness the sky glimmers with a preview of early spring constellations.

The Leonid meteors at their peak are capable of producing the spectacular display of celestial fireworks known to man. The Leonids are the swiftest of all shower meteors, at 44 miles per second — almost the highest theoretical speed for meteors belonging to the solar system — because their orbit runs nearly head-on to the Earth's. No Leonid has been known to escape entire vaporisation and reach the ground as a meteorite. Many are bright, some are fireballs; greenish or bluish, which can sometimes persist for five minutes or more!

The Leonids, historically are active from Nov.14 to 21. The source of the Leonids was first identified in 1866 by the Italian Astronomer, Giovanni Virginio Schiaparelli (1835 - 1910). The annual meteor shower known as the Leonids happens every November and is one of the most famous of all meteor showers. The peak of the Leonid meteor shower will occur on the morning of Nov. 17. Usually, this meteor shower can be seen between 11 pm to 5.30 am in south-eastern direction.

The shower has a peak every 33 years and can put on some very spectacular performances, such as back in 2001 with well over 300 meteors per hour. The Leonid Meteors are produced by debris from the Temple-Tuttle-55 Comet. Debris fields are created each time the comet passes close to the sun.

Existing debris fields are slightly changed in their orbital trajectories by small orbit perturbations primarily caused by the gravity fields of Jupiter and the sun and by heating from the sun. The 2019 Leonid meteor showers begin to appear in early November with the peak of the showers occurring on Nov. 17.

Leonid activities are tracked very well with the use of meteor particles evolution modeling. Particles ejected by the comet form lengthy trails. One of the reasons is radiation pressure force, which acts parallel with gravitational forces. Gravitational force is dependent on a particle mass, i.e. it is proportional to the third power of particle radius. The out crying radiation pressure is defined by the second power of particle radius.

The spectator stands agape, his mind numbed, his eyes dazzled, and his soul thrilled by the sight of shooting stars appearing by the hundreds. Perhaps even thousands per hour.

Every year, as noted above, a scattered few Leonids can be seen. Normally that is all there is to the Leonid meteor shower. Do not forget to see to this meteor shower particularly on November 16 and 17.

KPL Spot-Fixing Case

CCB grills K.C. Cariappa

Look Out Notice issued against Bellary Tuskers owner Reddy

Bengaluru, Nov. 16 (VNS)- The Central Crime Branch (CCB), which is investigating into the KPL Spot-Fixing and betting case, interrogated another cricketer K.C. Cariappa over spot-fixing, here yesterday.

Sources said that Cariappa's name popped-up while the Police questioned former India 'A' player C.M. Gautham who was arrested by CCB previously.

Bengaluru City Joint Police Commissioner (Crime) Sandeep Patil, who confirmed the news about Cariappa being questioned, said that many players including Cariappa were called for questioning since last few weeks and added that the arrests were being done only if the Police had credible evidences against players and others involved.

Cariappa shot to fame during 2015 Indian Premier League (IPL) auction after he was picked up by Shah Rukh Khan owned KKR for a whopping Rs.2.5 crore, six times more than his base price. The right-arm-spinner, who represented Bijapur Bulls in KPL, has also played for Kings XI Punjab previously.

Look Out Notice

Meanwhile, the CCB has also issued a Look Out Notice (LOC) against Bellary Tuskers owner Arvind Venkatesh Reddy. He has been summoned to appear before the Central Crime Branch sleuths for questioning.

In the KPL match-fixing scam, role of Bellary Team owner Reddy has come to light. Since he is abroad, notice has been served on him to appear for investigation and LOC has been issued against him, Sandeep Patil said.

Congress likely to field Dinesh Gundu Rao's wife from Shivajinagar

Tabu Gundu Rao

Bengaluru, Nov. 16- Tabu Gundu Rao, wife of Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) President Dinesh Gundu Rao, is likely to be the party's candidate from the Shivajinagar Assembly Constituency for the upcoming by-polls.

According to Congress sources, party leaders of Shivajinagar have demanded to field Tabu from Shivajinagar Constituency and even Dinesh Gundu Rao has been putting all efforts to ensure that his wife contests. As per sources, senior Congress leader Siddharamaiah will approve Tabu's candidature even if some leaders are against it.

While Tabu said she is reluctant to contest, the party feels she stands a good chance to win. Her name did the rounds during the recent Lok Sabha polls too. There were reports that the Congress wanted to field her to checkmate the BJP in Central Bengaluru against sitting MP P.C. Mohan. The party, which is yet to announce the second list of seven candidates, is likely to delay the announcement of candidate for Shivajinagar till the last moment, sources said.

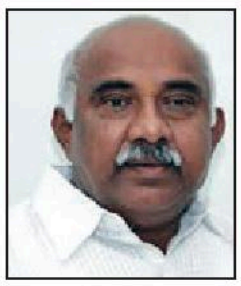
As far as Shivajinagar Constituency is concerned, the Congress does not have any suitable candidate. Member of the Legislative Council (MLC) Rizwan Arshad contested several times and got defeated as his name got involved in the I-Monetary Advisory (IMA) ponzi scam.

As there is a Tamil and Muslim population in Shivajinagar, the Congress is deciding to field Tabu as a candidate against BJP candidate Saravana. She herself gave some clues and shown some interest right after the resignation of R. Roshan Baig, the disqualified Congress leader, who was not inducted into the BJP reportedly due to the IMA Ponzi scam and allegations against him in RSS worker Rudresh murder case.

Tabu had tweeted about the leadership qualities and other things, which need to be carried to keep Congress leaders intact. According to reports, Baig is likely to fight the election from the Shivajinagar seat as an independent candidate after being denied tickets by the BJP. Sharavana's name was announced by the BJP in its second list.

Hunsur set for multi-cornered contest

H.P. Manjunath



A.H. Vishwanath

Devaralli Somashekar

Hunsur, Nov.16(KK&DM)- Even as the three major political parties in the State — Congress, BJP and JD(S) are gearing up for the all important Dec.5 by-polls for 15 Assembly segments across the State, Hunsur Assembly Constituency in Mysuru district seems to be set for a multi-cornered contest, as many independent candidates too are likely to enter the fray.

The last date for the filing of nominations is Nov.18. The by-polls has been necessitated following the disqualification of 17 rebel Legislators from the Congress and JD(S), by the then Assembly Speaker Ramesh Kumar in July this year, ahead of the Trust Vote moved by the then Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy.

The Congress has named former MLA H.P. Manjunath, while the BJP has announced the candidature of A.H. Vishwanath and the JD(S) Devaralli Somashekar. Thimmabovi belonging to a fringe party too filed nomination on Thursday, while former Mysuru Mayor Purushottam too is likely to file his nomination as an independent candidate and so also other independents, before the Nov.18 deadline.

With just two days left for the deadline for filing of nominations, pressure is mounting on Chamundeshwari MLA and former minister G.T. Devegowda to field his son G.D. Harishgowda, who is the MCDCC Bank President, as an independent candidate, as all the three major political parties have announced their candidates.

Incidentally, G.T. Devegowda (GTD) had won from Hunsur on a JD(S) ticket years ago. Also, G.D. Harish Gowda has a strong support base in Hunsur, which is a General Constituency and his followers feel that he may be a darkhorse to win the seat.

But GTD seems to be not interested in fielding his son. Although GTD, who is reportedly miffed with the JD(S) leadership, seems to have moved closer to BJP leaders, he has adopted a wait and watch policy.

As far as the candidates are concerned, H.P. Manjunath of the Congress had represented the Constituency for two straight terms (2008-2018) and hopes to win for the third time in the by-poll.

A.H. Vishwanath who is contesting on a BJP ticket this time, had won on a JD(s) ticket in the 2018 Assembly polls defeating H.P. Manjunath, while JD(S) candidate Devaralli Somasekhar is a new face.

While H.P. Manjunath is banking on former Chief Minister Siddharamaiah and other top Congress leaders, A.H. Vishwanath is dependent on the support of MP Pratap Simha and influential leader C.H. Vijayshankar and JD(S) candidate Devaralli Somashekar is banking on the image of former CM H.D. Kumaraswamy and the party supremo H.D. Devegowda.

H.P. Manjunath declares Rs.32.74 crore assets

Hunsur, Nov.16- Congress candidate for Hunsur by-poll H.P. Manjunath, who has filed his nomination papers, has declared assets worth Rs.32.74 crore.

Manjunath, in an affidavit submitted to the Election Commission while filing his nomination papers, has said that he owns immovable properties worth Rs.27.20 crore and there is no immovable property in the name of his wife Supriya Manjunath. He has availed loans of Rs.1.27 crore from various banks and financial institutions. Manjunath in his declaration said that he and his family members possess gold and silver jewellery worth over Rs.1 crore, LIC bond of Rs.5 lakh and Mutual Fund bonds amounting to Rs.86.23 lakh.

He has also declared that he owns a Mahindra Camper vehicle, a Mahindra jeep and a two-wheeler, which is in the name of his son.

Manjunath, a two-time former Congress MLA, had declared assets of Rs.26.56 crore when he contested last year's Assembly polls from Hunsur, which he lost. Now, his assets have risen by Rs.6.18 crore in a period of twenty months.

WORD OF THE DAY

Sprachgefühl

Pronunciation: shprahkh-guh-fyl.
Meaning: A sensitivity to language, especially for what is grammatically or idiomatically acceptable in a given language.

Origin: If you have sufficient Sprachgefühl for German, you'll know that this noun is a great example of how that language can form compounds that capture very specific concepts. Sprachgefühl combines German Sprache "speech, language" and Gefühl "feeling." Literally meaning "speech-feeling," this term was borrowed into English by the early 1900s to convey the idea of "a sensitivity to language, especially for what is grammatically or idiomatically acceptable in a given language," that is, an intuitive sense of how a language works. For instance, native English speakers understand (usually without being explicitly taught about adjective order) that a phrase like the green big book is incorrect in English. (The correct construction would be the big green book).
Example: He displays an extraordinary range of what Germans call Sprachgefühl, an infectious love of language that inspires his readers and illuminates the nooks and crannies of the English language.

THE ODD WORD

Saginate

To fatten animals.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Sandwich short of a picnic

Meaning: A jokey, colloquial term for stupid.

Origin: There are many phrases of the form 'an X short of a Y'. These all mean the same thing, that is, the person being spoken of is stupid. The 'short of' insult began in Australia and New Zealand in the mid 19th century; for example, Colonel Godfrey Mundy's Our Antipodes, 1852: "The climate is productive of chronic diseases rather than acute ones. Let no man having, in colonial phrase, 'a shingle short' try this country. He will pass his days in Tarban Creek Asylum." Of course, shingles are wooden tiles and many of these phrases refer to having something loose or missing 'up top' - 'a few slates missing', 'a screw loose' etc.
'A sandwich short of a picnic' is fairly recent. The first citation of it that has been documented is from the BBC's Lenny Henry Christmas Special, December 1987. In that, Henry performed I'm Mad, a spoof song and dance routine written by Kim Fuller and others. This aped Michael Jackson's 1983 hit Bad. Henry, in a straitjacket, sings 'I'm mad, I'm mad', while the backing vocalists sing:
He's mad, mad, one brick short of a load
He's mad, mad, one sandwich short of a picnic.
